Proposal for a

DIRECTIVE OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

amending Directives 2003/71/EC and 2009/138/EC in respect of the powers of the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority and the European Securities and Markets Authority

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. CONTEXT OF THE PROPOSAL

Experience of the financial crisis has exposed important failures in financial supervision. President Barroso therefore requested a group of high level experts, chaired by Mr Jacques de Larosière, to make proposals to strengthen European supervisory arrangements. The Group presented its report on 25 February 2009. Building on its recommendations, the Commission set out proposals for a new European financial supervisory architecture in its Communication to the Spring European Council of March 2009. The Commission presented its ideas in more detail in its Communication of May 2009 which proposed:

- Establishing a European System of Financial Supervisors (ESFS), consisting of a network of national financial supervisors working in tandem with new European Supervisory Authorities (ESAs), created by transforming the existing European supervisory committees¹ into a European Banking Authority (EBA), a European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority (EIOPA), and a European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA), thereby combining the advantages of an overarching European framework for financial supervision with the expertise of local micro-prudential supervisory bodies that are closest to the institutions operating in their jurisdictions; and
- Establishing a European Systemic Risk Board (ESRB), to monitor and assess potential threats to financial stability that arise from macro-economic developments and from developments within the financial system as a whole. To this end, the ESRB would provide an early warning of system-wide risks that may be building up and, where necessary, issue recommendations for action to deal with these risks.

The Communication also concluded that in order for the ESFS to work effectively, changes to the financial services legislation would be necessary, in particular to provide an appropriate scope to the more general powers provided for in the individual regulations establishing the authorities, ensuring a more harmonised set of financial rules through the possibility to develop draft technical standards and facilitate the sharing, where necessary, of micro-prudential information.

2. CONSULTATION OF THE INTERESTED PARTIES

Two open consultations were conducted in the development of these proposals. Firstly, following the report of the high-level group chaired by Jacques de Larosière and the publication of the 4 March 2009 Commission Communication, the Commission organised a first consultation from 10 March to 10 April 2009 as input to its Communication on Financial Supervision in Europe published on 27 May 2009. A summary of the public submissions received can be found at:

http://ec.europa.eu/internal_market/consultations/docs/2009/fin_supervision/summary_en.pdf

¹ These are the Committee of European Banking Supervisors (CEBS), the Committee of European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Supervisors (CEIOPS) and the Committee of European Securities Regulators (CESR).

Secondly, from 27 May to 15 July 2009, the Commission organised another consultation, inviting all interested parties to comment on the more detailed reforms presented in the Communication on Financial Supervision in Europe of 27 May 2009. The responses received were for the greater part supportive of the suggested reforms, with comments on detailed aspects of the proposed ESRB and ESFS. A summary of the public submissions received can be found at:

http://ec.europa.eu/internal_market/consultations/docs/2009/fin_supervision_may/replies_summary_en.pdf

Additionally, a Commission Services Staff Working Paper was published on 23 September 2009 to preview the possible areas where amendments to sectoral legislation may be necessary. The working paper can be found at:

http://ec.europa.eu/internal_market/finances/docs/committees/supervision/20090923/sec2009_1233_en.pdf

3. IMPACT ASSESSMENT

The May Commission Communication on Financial Supervision in Europe was accompanied by an impact assessment analysing the main policy options for establishing the ESFS and ESRB. A second impact assessment accompanied the legislative proposals, examining the options in more detail. The second impact assessment analysed the options for the appropriate powers for the authorities to work towards achieving a single set of harmonised rules and concluded that this capacity would be rightly limited to those areas to be defined in forthcoming sectoral legislation, and identified such potential areas. Additionally, in developing the draft technical standards themselves, the authorities should undertake appropriate analysis of potential related costs and benefits and consult stakeholders before submitting them to the Commission.

The second impact assessment report is available at:

http://ec.europa.eu/internal_market/finances/committees/index_en.htm#package

4. LEGAL ELEMENTS OF THE PROPOSAL

Given that changes need to be introduced into existing Directives to ensure the development of a single rule book, an amending Directive is the most appropriate instrument. This amending Directive should have the same legal basis as the Directives it amends.

5. BUDGETARY IMPLICATIONS

The proposal has no implication for the EU budget.

6. DETAILED EXPLANATION OF THE PROPOSAL

On 23 September 2009, the Commission adopted proposals for Regulations establishing EBA, EIOPA, and ESMA.² "In this respect the Commission wishes to recall the Statements in relation to Articles 290 and 291 TFEU it made at the adoption of the Regulations establishing the European Supervisory Authorities according to which: "As regards the process for the adoption of regulatory standards, the Commission emphasises the unique character of the financial services sector, following from the Lamfalussy structure and explicitly recognised in Declaration 39 to the TFEU. However, the Commission has serious doubts whether the restrictions on its role when adopting delegated acts and implementing measures are in line with Articles 290 and 291 TFEU."

Along with those Regulations and in order for the ESFS to work effectively, changes to the sectoral legislation are necessary. The areas in which amendments are proposed fall broadly into the following categories:

- Definition of the appropriate scope of technical standards as an additional tool for supervisory convergence and with a view of developing a single rule book;
- To appropriately integrate the possibility for the authorities to settle disagreements in a balanced way to those areas where common decision making processes already exist in sectoral legislation;
- General amendments which are common to most sectoral legislation and necessary for the directives to operate in the context of new authorities for example, renaming the level 3 committees to the new authorities and ensuring the appropriate gateways for the exchange of information are present; and
- Additional amendments to the Solvency II Directive.

This amending directive is proposed to amend the following legislation:

- Directive 2003/71/EC: Prospectus Directive
- Directive 2009/138/EC: Solvency II Directive

For detailed explanations of the categories of amendments see the Explanatory Memorandum to Commission proposal COM(2009) 576 final of 26 September 2009.

6.1 Further amendments to the Solvency II Directive

To adjust existing level 2 empowerments to the Lisbon Treaty

Given the recent entry into force of the Lisbon Treaty, the Solvency II directive needs to be adjusted to take account of the new Treaty. Existing level 2 empowerments which qualify as delegated acts according to Article 290 TFEU should therefore be transformed into empowerments for delegated acts. Appropriate control procedures should be foreseen.

Transitional Requirements

² http://ec.europa.eu/internal_market/finances/committees/index_en.htm#package

It is necessary to provide for the specification of transitional requirements for a number of reasons. There should be a smooth transition to the new regime, market disruption should be avoided, and impacts on the range of important insurance products should be able to be taken into account. It should also be possible for proper consideration to be given to significant and valuable industry-wide information to be obtained from the quantitative impact study (QIS5). Transitional requirements should therefore be possible in relation to valuation, governance, supervisory reporting and public disclosure, the determination and classification of own funds, the standard formula for the calculation of the Solvency Capital Requirement and the choice of methods and assumptions for the calculation of technical provisions, including the determination of the relevant risk-free interest rate term structure. It is also necessary to enable level 2 measures to specify transitional arrangements in relation to the treatment of third country regimes in order to acknowledge that some third countries may need more time to adapt and implement a solvency regime that would fully satisfy the criteria for being recognised as equivalent. It should be possible for the transitional requirements set out in Directive 2009/138/EC, as amended by this Directive, to have their non essential elements further specified in delegated acts. While the maximum periods for the transitional requirements are to be set out in Directive 2009/138/EC, the actual time period selected in any delegated act may be for a lesser period and should be proportionate to the particular basis upon which the transitional requirements is demonstrated to be necessary in order to facilitate the application of the new regime. The transitional requirements should be at least equivalent, in effect, to the existing framework on insurance and reinsurance directives and should not result in more favourable treatment for insurance and reinsurance undertakings, or lower protection for policy holders, than currently exists. The transitional requirements should encourage undertakings to move towards compliance with the particular requirements of the new regime as soon as possible.

Amending level 2 empowerments

In order to allow for greater convergence on procedures for supervisory approvals already provided for in Solvency II of undertaking specific parameters, model change policies, special purpose vehicles and the setting and removal of capital add-ons, the Commission should be empowered to adopt measures by means of delegated acts specifying procedure in these areas. It is also necessary to ensure cross-sectoral consistency to enable level 2 measures in the context of investments in repackaged loans to not only specify requirements but also specify the consequences of breaching those requirements.

To include the European Cooperative Society (SCE) in the list of permissible forms of insurance and reinsurance undertakings

In order to enable European cooperatives to provide insurance and reinsurance services, it is necessary to extend the list of permissible legal forms of insurance and reinsurance undertakings to include the European Cooperative Society (SCE) as defined in Regulation (EC) No.1435/2003³.

Euro amount of the absolute floor of the MCR

An amendment is necessary to reflect the adaptation to the Euro amount of the MCR floor for captive reinsurance undertakings. This arises out of the periodic adjustment of the existing capital requirement floors for such undertakings to take account of inflation.⁴

Extension of two months to implementation date

⁴ OJ C 63 of 18/03/2009, p. 11.

In order to better align the start of the various new reporting, calculation and other obligations of the Solvency II regime with the date (31 December) which marks the end of the financial year of the majority of insurance undertakings, amendments which extend the relevant transposition, repeal and application dates by 2 months are necessary.

Proposal for a

amending Directives 2003/71/EC and 2009/138/EC in respect of the powers of the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority and the European Securities and Markets Authority

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Articles 50, 53, 62, and 114 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the Commission⁵,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee⁶,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Central Bank⁷,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

- (1) On 23 September 2009, the Commission adopted proposals for three Regulations establishing the European System of Financial Supervisors including the creation of the three European Supervisory Authorities (ESA).
- (2) In order for the European System of Financial Supervisors (ESFS) to work effectively, changes to Union legislation in the field of operation of the three Authorities are necessary. Such changes concern the definition of the scope of certain powers of the ESAs, the integration of certain powers in existing processes established in relevant Union legislation and amendments to ensure a smooth and effective functioning of the ESA in the context of the ESFS.
- (3) The establishment of three ESAs should be accompanied by the development of a single rule book to ensure consistent harmonisation and uniform application and thus contribute to a more effective functioning of the internal market. The regulations establishing the ESFS provide that the ESAs may develop draft technical standards in the areas specifically set out in the relevant legislation, to be submitted to the Commission for adoption in accordance with Articles 290 and 291 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU) by means of delegated or implementing acts. Whereas Directive .../.... [Omnibus I] has identified a first set of such areas, this

⁶ OJ C [...], [...], p. [...].

⁷ OJ C [...], [...], p. [...].

Directive should identify a further set of areas, in particular for Directive 2003/71/EC and Directive 2009/138/EC, without prejudice to adding further areas in the future.

- (4) The relevant legislation should define those areas where the ESAs are empowered to develop draft technical standards and how such standards should be adopted. The relevant legislation should lay down the elements, conditions and specifications as detailed in Article 290 TFEU in the case of delegated acts.
- (5) The identification of areas for technical standards should strike an appropriate balance between building a single set of harmonised rules and avoiding unduly complicated regulation and enforcement. The only areas selected should be those in which consistent technical rules will contribute significantly and effectively to the achievement of the objectives of the relevant legislation, while ensuring that policy decisions are taken by the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission in accordance with their usual procedures.
- (6) Matters subject to technical standards should be genuinely technical, where their development requires the expertise of supervisory experts. The technical standards adopted as delegated acts should further develop, specify and determine the conditions for consistent harmonisation of the rules included in basic instruments adopted by the European Parliament and the Council, supplementing or amending certain non-essential elements of the legislative act. On the other hand, technical standards adopted as implementing acts should set conditions for the uniform application of legally binding Union acts. Technical standards should not involve policy choices.
- (7) In the case of regulatory technical standards it is appropriate to introduce the procedure provided for in Articles 10 to 14 of Regulation (EU) No .../2010 [EBA], of Regulation (EU) No .../2010 [ESMA], and of Regulation (EU) No .../2010 [EIOPA]. Implementing technical standards should be adopted in accordance with the procedure provided for in Article 15 of Regulation (EU) No .../2010 [EBA], of Regulation (EU) No .../2010 [ESMA], and of Regulation (EU) No .../2010 [EIOPA]. The European Council endorsed the four-level 'Lamfalussy' approach to make the regulatory process for Union financial legislation more efficient and transparent. The Commission is empowered to adopt level-2 measures in many areas, and a large number of level-2 Commission regulations and directives are in force. In cases where the technical standards are designed to further develop, specify or determine the conditions of application of such level-2 measures, they should be adopted only once the relevant level-2 measure has been adopted and should respect the content of that level-2 measure.
- (8) Binding technical standards contribute to a single rulebook for financial services legislation as endorsed by the European Council in its conclusions of June 2009. To the extent that certain requirements in Union legislative acts are not fully harmonised, and in accordance with the precautionary principle on supervision, binding technical standards developing, specifying or determining the conditions of application for those requirements should not prevent Member States from requiring additional information or imposing more stringent requirements. Technical standards should therefore allow Member States to do so in specific areas, where those legislative acts provide for such discretion.

- (9) As set out in the regulations establishing the ESFS, before submitting the technical standards to the Commission, the ESA should, where appropriate, conduct open public consultations relating to them and analyse the potential related costs and benefits.
- (10) It should be possible for technical standards to provide for transitional measures subject to adequate deadlines, if the costs of immediate implementation would be excessive compared to the benefits involved.
- (11) The Regulations establishing the ESFS provide for a mechanism to settle disagreements between competent national authorities. Where a competent authority disagrees with the procedure or content of an action or inaction by another competent authority in areas specified in legal acts of the Union in accordance with Regulation (EU) No .../ 2010 [EBA], Regulation (EU) No .../ 2010 [ESMA] and Regulation (EU) No .../ 2010 [EIOPA], where the relevant legislation requires cooperation, coordination or joint decision-making by competent national authorities from more than one Member State, the ESA, at the request of one of the competent authorities concerned, should be able to assist the authorities in reaching an agreement within the time limit set by the ESA which should take into account any relevant time limits in the relevant legislation, and the urgency and complexity of the disagreement. In the event that such disagreement persists, the ESA should be able to settle the matter.
- (12) The regulations establishing the ESAs require that the cases where the mechanism to settle disagreements between competent national authorities may be applied are to be specified in the sectoral legislation. This Directive should identify a first set of such cases and should be without prejudice to adding further cases in the future. This Directive should not prevent the ESAs from acting in accordance with other powers or fulfilling tasks specified in their establishing regulations, including non-binding mediation and contributing to the consistent, efficient and effective application of legal acts of the Union. Moreover, in those areas where some form of non-binding mediation is already established in the relevant legal act, or where there are time limits for joint decisions to be taken by one or more competent national authorities, amendments are needed to ensure clarity and minimum disruption of the process for reaching a joint decision, but also that where necessary, the ESAs should be able to resolve disagreements. The binding procedure for the settlement of disagreements is designed to solve situations where competent supervisors cannot resolve, among themselves, procedural or substantive issues relating to compliance with legal acts of the Union.
- (13) This Directive should therefore identify situations where a procedural or a substantive issue of compliance with Union law may need to be resolved and the supervisors may not be able to resolve the matter on their own. In such a situation, one of the supervisors involved should be able to raise the issue with the competent ESA. That ESA should act in accordance with the procedure set out in its establishing regulation and in this Directive. It should be able to require the competent authorities concerned to take specific action or to refrain from action in order to settle the matter and to ensure compliance with Union law, with binding effects on the competent authorities concerned. In cases where the relevant legal act of the Union confers discretion on Member States, decisions taken by a ESA should not replace the exercise of discretion by the competent authorities in compliance with Union law.

- (14) Directive 2009/138/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 25 November 2009 on the taking up and pursuit of the business of insurance and reinsurance (Solvency II)⁸ provides for joint decisions as regards the approval of applications to use an internal model at group and subsidiary levels, the approval of applications to make a subsidiary subject to Articles 238 and 239 of that Directive and the identification of the group supervisor on a different basis from the criteria set out in Article 247 of that Directive. In all of these areas, an amendment should clearly state that in the event of disagreement, the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority (EIOPA) may resolve the disagreement using the process outlined in Regulation .../... [EIOPA]. This approach would make it clear that disagreements can be resolved and cooperation strengthened before a decision is made or issued to an institution. EIOPA's role in resolving disagreements is to mediate between the conflicting views of the supervisory authorities rather than to substitute judgements in the matters concerned. The fact that EIOPA has acted to mediate a specific disagreement should not be understood as meaning that EIOPA should have an ongoing role in the supervision of the subject matter of the application.
- (15) The new supervisory architecture established by the ESFS will require national supervisory authorities to cooperate closely with the ESAs. Amendments to the relevant legislation should ensure there are no legal obstacles to the information sharing obligations included in the regulations proposed by the Commission establishing the ESAs.
- (16) In areas where the Commission is currently empowered by Directive 2009/138/EC to adopt implementing measures where these measures are non-legislative acts of general application to supplement or amend certain non-essential elements of that Directive in the sense of Article 290 TFEU, the Commission should be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with that Article.
- (17) In order to allow for the consistent calculation of technical provisions by insurance and reinsurance undertakings under Directive 2009/138/EC, it is necessary for a central body to derive, publish, and update certain technical information related to the risk-free interest rate term structure, which takes account of observations in the financial market, and for the body to be able to do this on a regular basis. Given the technical and insurance related nature of these tasks, they should be carried out by EIOPA.
- (18) In order to ensure that certain technical inputs to the Solvency Capital Requirement (SCR) using the standard formula are provided on a harmonised basis, for instance to allow for harmonised approaches toward the use of ratings, specific tasks should be assigned to EIOPA. The detailed manner for the exercise of such tasks should be further specified in measures to be adopted by delegated act.
- (19) In order to ensure a harmonised approach under Directive 2009/138/EC in determining where an extension to the recovery period in cases of breaches of the SCR is permitted, the conditions which constitute "an exceptional fall in the financial markets" should be specified. EIOPA, upon request from the supervisory authority concerned, should be responsible for determining whether those conditions have been fulfilled and the Commission should be empowered to adopt measures by means of delegated acts specifying the relevant procedures to be followed.

- (20) In order to ensure cross-sectoral consistency and to remove the misalignment between the interests of firms that "repackage" loans into tradable securities and other financial instruments (originators) and the interests of insurance or reinsurance undertakings that invest in such securities or instruments, the Commission should be empowered to adopt measures by means of delegated act in the context of investments in repackaged loans under Directive 2009/138/EC, specifying not only the requirements but also the consequences of breaching those requirements.
- (21) In order to allow for greater convergence on procedures for supervisory approvals provided for in Directive 2009/138/EC of undertaking specific parameters, model change policies, special purpose vehicles and the setting and removal of capital additions, the Commission should be empowered to adopt measures by means of delegated act specifying procedure in these areas.
- (22) The development of international convergence toward risk-based solvency regimes should be encouraged. In order to acknowledge that some third countries may need more time to adapt and implement a solvency regime that would fully satisfy the criteria for being recognised as equivalent, it is necessary to enable Commission measures adopted by means of delegated act to specify transitional arrangements in relation to the treatment of such third country regimes, particularly where a public commitment to converge to a regime equivalent to Directive 2009/138/EC has been made.
- (23) In order to enable the European Cooperative Society, established in Council Regulation (EC) No 1435/2003 of 22 July 2003 on the Statute for a European Cooperative Society (SCE)⁹, to provide insurance and reinsurance services, it is necessary to extend the list of permissible legal forms of insurance and reinsurance undertakings under Directive 2009/138/EC to include the European Cooperative Society (SCE).
- (24) The amounts in euro of the Minimum Capital Requirement floor for captive reinsurance undertakings should be adapted. Such an adaptation arises out of the periodic adjustment of the existing capital requirement floors for such undertakings to take account of inflation.¹⁰
- (25) In order to better reflect the date which marks the end of the financial year for the majority of insurance undertakings (31 December) and to enable a smoother transition between the old and new regimes, the relevant transposition, repeal and application dates in Directive 2009/138/EC should be extended by two months.
- (26) Certain implementing powers designed under Article 202 of the Treaty establishing the European Community (EC Treaty) should be replaced with the appropriate provisions in accordance with Article 290 TFEU.

¹⁰ OJ C 63, 18.03.2009, p. 11.

- (27) The alignment of comitology procedures to the TFEU and, in particular, to Article 290 thereof, should be effected on a case-by-case basis. In order to take account of the technical developments in the financial markets and to specify the requirements laid down in the directives amended by this Directive, the Commission should be empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 290 TFEU. In particular, the delegated acts should be adopted in respect of details concerning governance requirements, valuation, supervisory reporting and public disclosure, the determination and classification of own funds, the standard formula for the calculation of the Solvency Capital Requirement (including any consequential changes in the area of capital add-ons) and the choice of methods and assumptions for the calculation of technical provisions.
- (28) The European Parliament and the Council should have two months from the date of notification to object to a delegated act. At the initiative of the European Parliament or the Council, it should be possible to prolong that period by one month with regard to significant areas of concern. It should also be possible for the European Parliament and the Council to inform the other institutions of their intention not to raise objections. Such early approval of delegated acts is particularly appropriate when deadlines need to be met, for example where there are timetables in the basic act for the Commission to adopt delegated acts.
- (29) In order to allow for a smooth transition under Directive 2009/138/EC to a new regime, it is necessary to provide for transitional requirements relating to governance requirements, valuation, supervisory reporting and public disclosure, the determination and classification of own funds, the standard formula for the calculation of the Solvency Capital Requirement (including any consequential changes in the area of capital add-ons) and the choice of methods and assumptions for the calculation of technical provisions. Where such changes are made at the level of the individual undertaking, corresponding and consequential changes should be made to the calculation of group solvency, and supervisory reporting and public disclosure at group level. Where such changes concern group supervisory reporting and group public disclosure, the appropriate transitional provisions should apply mutatis mutandis at group level. In relation to group solvency, Article 218(2) and (3) provide the basis for solvency requirements for supervision in cases of application of group supervision mentioned in Article 213. The methods and principles for calculating group solvency referred to in Article 218 are set out in more detail in Articles 220 to 235. Those methods and calculations apply (whether directly or by analogy) to cases of application of group supervision mentioned in Article 218. To the extent that such group solvency rules make reference to solvency rules at the level of the individual undertaking and where a transitional solvency regime is applied at individual level corresponding adaptations may need to be made to the group solvency rules.
- (30) The transitional requirements should aim at avoiding market disruption and limiting interferences with existing products as well as ensuring the availability of insurance products. The provisions of transitional requirements should also allow proper consideration to be taken of the significant and valuable industry -wide information to be obtained from the quantitative impact study (QIS5). The transitional provisions set out in Directive 2009/138/EC should further specify non-essential elements to be determined by delegated acts. While the maximum periods for the transitional provisions are to be set out in Directive 2009/138/EC, the actual time period selected in any delegated act may be for a shorter period and should reflect the specific characteristics of the provisions and facilitate the application of the new regime. The transitional requirements should at least be equivalent, in effect, to the existing framework on insurance and reinsurance directives and should not result in more favourable treatment for insurance and reinsurance undertakings, or lower protection for policy holders, than currently exists. In terms of solvency requirements, this means that these should during any possible transitional period be no higher than the Solvency Capital Requirement and no lower than the sum of the Minimum Capital Requirement and fifty per cent of the difference between the Solvency Capital Requirement and the Minimum Capital Requirement. The transitional requirements should encourage undertakings to move towards compliance with the particular requirements of the new regime as soon as possible.

- (31) Since the objectives of this Directive, namely improving the functioning of the internal market by means of ensuring a high, effective and consistent level of prudential regulation and supervision, protecting policy holders and beneficiaries and thereby businesses and consumers, protecting the integrity, efficiency and orderly functioning of financial markets, maintaining the stability of the financial system, and strengthening international supervisory coordination, cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States and can, therefore, by reason of scale of the action, be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality, as set out in that Article, this Directive should not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve those objectives.
- (32) The Commission should, by 1 January 2014, report to the European Parliament and to the Council on the submission by the ESA of the draft technical standards provided for in this Directive and present any appropriate proposals.
- (33) Directives 2003/71/EC and 2009/138/EC should therefore be amended accordingly,
